

The old-growth forest, freshwater lake and pristine prairie that comprise Cannon Bend Recreation Area, with plentiful food, is a haven for numerous migrating and resident birds, mammals, dragonflies, butterflies and other flora and fauna. Fishing, paddling, and viewing docks overlooking the pond, along with trails and other stopping points, will afford prime viewing and photography opportunities...and all just a stone's throw from Lake Jackson, Oyster Creek, and the Gulf of Mexico...

A New Future for the Cannon Bend Unit

The Friends of Brazoria Wildlife Refuges is raising funds to facilitate the development and improvement of the Cannon Bend Unit near the Brazoria National Wildlife Refuge. This 190-acre property is conveniently located on CR 690 at the Oyster Creek oxbow.

The Cannon Bend Recreation Area—site of a former sand pit now filled with fresh water—will offer non-motorized boating, fishing for largemouth bass, catfish, bluegill, shad and other species, and viewing of numerous raptors, waterfowl, egrets, herons, spoonbills and other species. At least 78 bird species were counted during the 2019 Christmas Bird Count in the oldgrowth bottomland forest, prairie, and lake area. Cannon Bend is expected to rival prime birdwatching habitats in the area as large numbers of warblers, tanagers, grosbeaks, buntings, vireos, thrushes and orioles have been reported during spring and fall migrations.

Cannon Bend will be a multifaceted respite that appeals to every type of nature lover—and it's practically in our own backyard!

This recreation area will provide the only freshwater fishing lake on the Texas Midcoast Refuges and unparalleled viewing of wildlife in multiple habitats.

This project, estimated cost $500,000, will begin spring 2020 with expected completion in fall 2022. A Taste for Nature 2019 seeks to kickstart the funds needed for this public recreation area that will be unique to Southern Brazoria County.
